Dr. W. Courtland Robinson,
THE PRESBYTERIAN,
1217 Market Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

My dear Dr. Robinson:

It is a great delight to have Stewart here. We have of course a great deal in common and his youth and new experience are very delightful to me in enlarging my own knowledge and experience and carrying it down into another generation.

I hoped he would bring his wife with him. My brother was so exceedingly attached to her and spoke of her so often that it would have been a great happiness to me to have her here.

I am glad to know that you and Mrs. Robinson are supplying his absence in Elizabeth, you in the pulpit and she in the home.

With warm regard and best wishes,

Very truly yours,

E. D. Warfield

Dear Dr Robinson

Last night, a service in memory of your more than twelve yrs. pastorate in Northumster, was held. It was a well attended meeting, and your night ear must have burned, for as many as could, in the allotted time for the meeting, witnessed to your place in our hearts, mention was lovingly made of your dear father, and your family. Dr Mackie led off by speaking in great appreciation and affection of your constructive ministry, as long as Northumster lives it will enjoy the blessings resulting from your work.

Changes, many sad, and others otherwise were spoken of. Those who came into membership during your time with us, were asked to write you a letter. While I cannot claim that position, yet I felt moved to take this opportunity to thank you again for your kindness to me.
My husband's sickness and death was the greatest sorrow my life ever knew, I was so much helped by your unfailing sympathy. I can never thank you enough.
I know Hubby loved you, and so do I. You were dear to him, as his pastor and friend. Mrs Robinson and Stewart come in, for their share of our affection. I wish for you all great success and God's rich blessing on you all, at all times. Hope you are all in the best of health, as we are.

Sister Anne joins me in best regards to all.

Ever your friend
Mrs E. J. Way
